WYCOMBE Wanderers will be without their consistent midfield man Rob Williams tomorrow (Saturday) when they visit Southbury Road for an Isthmian League match against Enfield. However, the chances are that returning Keith Searle will be in the side.

three bookings this season and their 102 goals. therefore misses tomorrow's counter against Bromley.

This means Wycombe will things again. probably move Paul Birdseye into back.

Upfront, Keith Searle is be substitute tomorrow.

for Searle to renew his old field, another international, has partnership with Tony Horsman, 17.

the combination in fact which Williams started a two week took Wycombe to the league title suspension on Monday, for his last season and scored many of

Much will be expected of game and next week's home en- Searle but it could take him a while to settle into the swing of

A glance at the league table midfield and bring in Ian Rundle sees Enfield in their lowest position to the full back position. Much for many years, after being at the depends on the fitness of Dave top for so long. They are now in Bullock, who suffered a cut head tenth place but have scored the at Leytonstone last week. If he is second highest total of goals in unfit, then-Rundle will partner the league, only two less than Delaney at centre back and Keith runaway leaders Hendon. Blunt, who filled in at Marlow on However, they have also con-Tuesday, will come in at full ceded a fair few and this has been their downfall.

The team, in fact, is not much available for the match and the different to the one that drew 2-2 player likely to drop out is Tony at Wycombe on September 9. Amos. Although he tops the Tony Turley scored the two goals Wanderers goalscoring charts then and has emerged as their top this term, he has been through a goalscorer this season with a poor spell recently and could well massive 31. John Brooks, recently capped against Scotland, is se-If so, it will leave the way open cond with 24 while John Butter-